21 DAYS

OF POWER

Welcome to 21 Days of Power with Pastor Qwynn!

For several years now Hope Cathedral has set aside time for concentrated prayer, and this year is no different! From August 4th through August 24th, we are committed to praying (and fasting, if you're inclined), as a church!

We want to see the power of God at work, and we can through prayer! For 21 Days, we will break away from routines to pursue God like never before. It's said that when you want something different in life, you have to do something differently, so we're committed as a church to pray without relent. We not only want answers, but more than anything, we want to be closer to our Father.

For this reason, we will anchor ourselves spiritually through personal devotions, daily conference calls and on-site prayer. And, this Prayer Guide has been provided to equip us with everything we need for good success. Included are daily, as well as hourly, prayer prompts and a declaration that we can use to end our day and seal our prayers.

If you decide to pray and fast, meaning sacrifice meals, it is important that you do so wisely, so also included are helpful and healthy tips to consider. Remember, this a resource and does not replace the care of your physician.

Whether you pray and fast regularly or this will be the first time you participate in collective prayer, my goal is to help you create a discipline in your devotion towards our Father and offer any support I can to ensure your success.

My prayer is that God will honor whatever sacrifice and effort you make to draw closer to Him. And, I'm in agreement with you for healing, direction, favor, breakthrough and answers in your life and in those you love and care deeply about.

We're on a journey together, and I know God is faithful! So, I look forward to hearing your personal victories and seeing His power at work in our midst as a church.

Finally, I want to thank my mentor and friend, Dr. Mensa Otabil for allowing us to use his work.

Agapé!

Pastor Qwynn

What is fasting?

Fasting by definition means to abstain from food and drink. It is a deliberate denial of all foods, or choice foods for a determined amount of time. For example, Daniel fasted for 21 Days abstaining from the Kings table of meat and wine (Daniel 10:3), whereas, Moses didn't eat or drink anything for 40 days and nights, according to Exodus 34:28. From both examples, we find fasting to be the expression and cultivation of dependence on and humility before God. Denial of the natural, the flesh, in pursuit of the spiritual, our Father, actually moves the heart of God towards His people. Thus, fasting is a crucial part of a healthy relationship with God. Though fasting is not considered a major tenet of faith, Jesus intimates that His followers would fast, saying in Matthew 6:16: "... when you fast". Thus, when believer's fast and pray there is a profound spiritual impact in a person's individual life and in the community of God's people.

Why fast?

God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble (James 4:6-10). We're told in Isaiah 57:15, "I dwell in the high and holy place, and also with him who is of a contrite and lowly spirit, to revive the spirit of the lowly, and to revive the heart of the contrite." The reference in Isaiah 66:1-2 is much the same as God looks at those who truly fear Him.

Our God, and Father, who is above all earthly power comes close to those who willingly humble themselves before Him because they acknowledge and recognize His Sovereignty. And, fasting is how we humble ourselves before God (Joel 1:14; 2:12, 15), it's how we revere Him above everything and anything else. By going without our most basic need for a set amount of time, we declare to God that He is more significant than any worldly possession. Simultaneously, in the absence of food, we look to Him as our sustenance. By fasting we are choosing to feed our spirit rather than our flesh. Fasting is one way that we demonstrate our utter dependence on God for all things. It is another level of yielding to His Lordship or leadership, beyond words but with action as we spend time in His presence declaring our need of Him. And in response, God comes closer to His people.

As God draws close to us in our humility, a fervency grows within the believer's heart. There is a desperation for God that increases (cf. Acts 13:2); freedom from besetting sins comes as our flesh is made subject to the written Word of God (Galatians 6:8; Romans 8:13); clear insight into God's will comes (cf. Acts 14:23); and, dramatic intervention comes in circumstances (see many examples below under "When should I fast").

How should I fast?

The Bible actually has a lot more to say about how not to fast rather than how to fast. The warnings are offered so that our fasting is pleasing to God and not just piety at work. For example, the Pharisee's fasted as a legalistic badge of merit and superiority, so we're told not to fast like that. We shouldn't let everyone know we're denying ourselves (exaggerated, distressed gasps as your friends eat lunch; complaining repeatedly about how hungry you are and the like are what Jesus is referring to in Matthew 6:16-18). God's people in the Old Testament are likewise condemned for fasting because they took advantage of others, so we're told what a true fast actually is, in God's eyes (Isaiah 58). God condemns people for fasting to get what they want, rather than merely drawing close to God and leaving the "results" to Him ("... you seek your own pleasure." v. 3). So, when we fast, we should also pursue righteousness. And that means, loving others. Anything else is hypocrisy.

Who should fast?

According to a first century document called the Didache, almost all of the earliest Christians fasted as a regular rhythm in their lives together (they fasted every Wednesday and Friday). Furthermore, Jesus says that His disciples will fast as an act of grief for His departure and as an act of longing for His return (Matthew 9:14-15). As such, it is fitting for Christians to appropriate this powerful means of grace life. To shrink away from this practice is to refuse what God may want to accomplish in and through the process.

When should I fast?

The Scriptures are rife with examples of when God's people are to fast. Nehemiah fasted for an astounding 120 days when he saw the state of God's people and God's city (Neh 1:1-4). Esther called for the entire nation of Israel to fast as she tried to divert Haman's plan to annihilate the Jews (Esther 4:15-17). Ezra proclaimed a fast in order to seek God's protection when the people returned from exile to rebuild Jerusalem (Ezra 8:21; similarly: 2 Chronicles 20:3). The Apostles fasted when they needed clarity on God's plan in the early days of the Church (Acts 13:2-3; 14:23). Even Jesus fasted for 40 days at the outset of His ministry to declare His complete dependence on the Father (Matthew 4). Given these examples, we can conclude that fasting is especially appropriate when God's intervention is especially needed.

Let's get practical ...

- Prepare for your fast by slowing down the amount of food you eat, and/or the portion size and/or the kinds of foods you intake a couple of days before your official day of fasting begins. Avoid high-fat and sugary foods before beginning a fast. Wean yourself from caffeine before fast begins.
- Consult your physician if you're on medication. And, you might talk to him/her about a recommended multivitamin and/or fiber supplement. If you are diabetic, have a serious heart condition or are pregnant, you probably should not fast
- You can fast in many ways. A whole fast speaks to no food and all liquids. A half fast may be the kinds of foods you eat or the time of day. For instance, you may fast from 6am-6pm eating nothing or eating vegetable or eating regularly at 6pm. Any combination of eating may be considered a half fast. Pray about what kind of fast you will engage.
- To prevent constipation during and after the fast, eat fresh fruit and raw vegetables, fruit and/or real vegetable juices. Watch sugar content in many juices. Odwalla and Naked juices are loaded with sugar, for instance. Stay away.
- The first three days are almost universally the most difficult. The body is releasing toxins that have been built up for years. Once you're through the fourth day, your equilibrium will return and you'll likely feel surprisingly alert and strong. Drink plenty, plenty, plenty of water.

- Don't forget why you're fasting! We can easily get absorbed into recipe's and/or the physical effects of our fast that we forget to maximize its impact in extended times of prayer and taking in large doses of the Scriptures. Don't waste your fast.
- If you have had serious eating issues in the past, you should approach fasting with great caution. You may consider fasting from a particular type of food (meat, fruit, etc.).
- What about fasting from Facebook, TV, internet, etc? While these are admirable and even recommended practices, the Biblical definition of fasting is universally with respect to food. Nothing so thoroughly reminds us of our dependence on God than the denial of our most basic need ... and no, our most basic need is not Facebook.
- Have a clear prayer target/focus. And, write it down (Habakkuk 2:2). Without a vision or clear goal you cannot know clearly how God intervened at the conclusion of your fast. Maybe you'd like to see salvation for your relatives, maybe you'd like to see a situation change/resolve on your job.
- When you fast, sincerely pray. Read the Scriptures aloud (Matthew 4:4). It may seem obvious, but busyness and distractions can keep you from daily devotions. Expect to hear God's voice in the Scriptures, in dreams, vision and revelations. Daniel prepared himself to receive revelation through fasting (Daniel 10:1-2).
- There are times during a fast that there is an emotional cleansing. If you find yourself highly sensitive to different emotions, use the fast to identify those areas in life that need greater attention. Self control is necessary.
- End your fast gradually. Break the fast eating light meals and/or foods that are easy to digest (Broth, apple sauce, watermelon, steamed vegetables).
- Prepare for opposition. Satan tempted Jesus and he will tempt you (Matthew 4)
- If you err and eat, breaking the fast before the 21 days have ended, don't live in condemnation. Start again.
- If you're joining the fast after it is underway, welcome! It's not too late!

Discussion Questions:

1. After reading this sheet, what do you find most motivating in what you've read?
2. Read Matthew 6:16-18. Why do you think Jesus assumes His followers will fast? Given what you've read, what "rewards" might God grant those who fast in this way?
3. Read Isaiah 58:1-12. What makes God so angry about this particular fast? What is the fast that God has chosen? What are some of the results when we fast in this way (properly)?
4. What sort of fast are you going to pursue (water only, juice only, one meal a day)?

DAY 1 – AUGUST 4

Personal – 5am to 8am

BE OPEN BEFORE GOD

Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane, and said to the disciples, "Sit here while I go and pray over there. "And He took with Him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and He began to be sorrowful and deeply distressed. Then He said to them, "My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here and watch with Me." (Matthew 26:36-38)

1. Thank God for the opportunity to come before Him just as you are; bless His name for counting you worthy to experience His grace and mercy today.
2. Commit yourself to God and ask Him to search you completely; pray that the Lord will reveal all your anxieties and weaknesses in your heart to you today.
3. Confess your sins, worries, doubts and fears to God and ask Him to help you trust in Him; ask for help to draw closer to Him in humility, honesty and openness.

Family and Church – 8am to 11am

4. Present your entire family to God and ask Him to draw them close to Himself; pray that your family will be willing to enjoy fellowship with Him this season.
5. Pray that your family will seek the Lord honestly as you intercede for them during the 21 days of fasting and prayer; declare that they will seek Him diligently and find Him in this season.
6. Thank God for His presence and power at work in the church; pray for divine encounters in the church during this year's 21 Days of Power.

Productivity, Career and Business – 11am to 2pm

7. Present all your anxieties concerning your academics and work to God; ask Him to deliver you from them and give you clarity of thought to pursue your dreams.
8. Ask the Holy Spirit to fill you completely today; ask for God's grace to help you go about your business in honesty and transparency.
9. Bind and cast out every cycle of delay, defeat and disappointment from your life; declare that this year, you will see a turnaround in all your endeavors in Jesus' name.

Our Nation and Other Countries – 2pm to 5pm

10. Thank the Lord for His manifest glory over the body of Christ in America; pray that we will be sensitive to His leading and follow His precepts in all we do.
11. Commit our leaders to the Lord and ask Him to mold their heart and make it subject to His will; pray that they will walk in His precepts and abide by His principles.

12. Thank God for His grace available to you as we commence this year's 21 Days of Power; declare that every blessing tied to this year's fasting and prayers will accrue to you in Jesus' name.

Declaration – 8:30pm

*Oh Lord my God, how excellent is your name in all the earth. Lord, You have searched my heart and known my thoughts and ways. You have tried me and known my weaknesses. Reveal Yourself to me in this season as I wait on You, show me Your ways that I may walk with You all the days of my life. I declare that my mind is set on You from today in Jesus' name, Amen!

10. Lift the United States unto the Lord; ask that through His favor and kindness, the country will accelerate in unity and oneness in Jesus' name.
11. Resist the power of division that has hindered the growth and advancement of United States. Ask that by His power, all in America would resist hatred, discord and every anti-Christ spirit/mentality.
12. Ask the Lord to raise up selfless servant leaders across the globe; declare that through righteous visionary leadership, there will be prosperity and abundance for all to enjoy.

Declaration – 8:30pm

*God's favor rests on me! The Lord is with me and all I do prospers in Jesus name. I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God for my salvation, healing and deliverance; the word of the Lord is my sword and shield and by my God I walk in more glory and more power. In Jesus' name, Amen!

DAY 22 – AUGUST 25 – BONUS!

Personal – 5am to 8am

DIVINE WISDOM

*If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all liberally and without reproach, and it will be given to him. (James 1:5)

1. Thank the Lord for His promise to give wisdom to all who ask Him in faith; bless Him that His promises are yes and amen in Christ.
2. Ask God to teach you the humility to seek Him first and His wisdom when faced with both the complex and simple challenges of life.
3. Ask the Lord to help you develop trust and child-like faith in His guidance and leading as you pray and study His word.

Family and Church – 8am to 11am

4. Bind and cast out every spirit of folly that lures you to make unwise choices and utterances that affect your family negatively.
5. Ask the Lord make you a model of the wisdom and blessedness of believing in God; pray that through you, other members of your family will come to know Him.
6. Ask God to give the church insight and understanding to minister effectively in the present times.

Productivity, Business & Career – 11am to 2pm

7. Ask the Lord to send wise counselors your way who will enable you to move to the next level of productivity in all your endeavors.
8. Commit yourself to the Lord that He will help you avoid repeating the mistakes that have hindered the progress of others in your chosen business or career.
9. Claim a fresh impartation of creative ideas, concepts and solutions to address the problems confronting you in your education or work.

Our Nation, Countries & Global – 2pm to 5pm

10. Intercede for the leaders of all American cities: ask God to grant wisdom for rapid economic growth and social development.
11. Confess that God will bless America, establish her in wisdom and make her great and strong.
12. Ask the Lord to continually reveal Himself to all people through the wisdom in creation and through the preaching of the gospel.

Declaration – 8:30pm

*Today, I commit myself to seeking the Lord for wisdom in all situations. I claim His promise and receive spiritual, mental, moral, practical and governmental wisdom to live my life. I confess that the Holy Spirit lives in me and He guides me on my way. I declare that my family escapes the snares of folly and the church is built and establishment on the foundation of God's word. I decree that America will never be the same again because of godly wisdom in Jesus' name. Amen!
